

Symbols

As we have considered the challenges of ministering in our post-modern world we have been drawn to the symbol of a compass. We live in a sea of constant change. The question then is, "How will the church discern if it's following Christ or just following the culture?"

Vision

"No navigator goes anywhere without a compass. No sailor would set out to sea without a compass. The compass is absolutely as essential as you can get. Without it, you can't expect to get anywhere. Except lost"

God has given spiritual navigators a compass: the Scriptures. The Scriptures point us to Christ. They enable us to locate the North Star. They are not Christ. They are not what we worship. But the compass points us to our life work- following Christ."

This life work of following Christ we are calling
"Worship as a Life-Style".

We were created to worship God, the one who "made us to love us". What was lost because of sin (relationship with God, peace, purpose) can be found again through faith in Jesus Christ. When Christ finds and rescues us from ourselves and restores relationship with Himself then our response is worship.

Worship is not a once a week activity it is a life-style. It is a life orientation towards God and godliness. A true worshipper is one whose focus has moved from pleasing self to pleasing Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

All we do both corporately and personally must reflect that we are oriented towards our "true-north", Jesus Christ

Mission

In a post-modern world we want to be a church that is pointing people to Christ. We want to be open to God's leading as to how we can best share the unchanging truth of God with a constantly changing world.
